

Consultation on changes to ticket offices

We are consulting on proposals to move ticket office staff into other areas of the station where they can help more customers, as transactions from ticket offices drop below 15%.

The consultations are happening as part of an industry-wide set of proposals that would mean ticket office staff would instead work on station platforms and concourses where they can be closer to customers. Subject to consultation, ticket offices could be phased out over a number of years.

Digital tickets have made it easier for customers to buy and manage tickets online or use products like smartcards or pay-as-you-go. As fewer people than ever are using ticket offices, we must respond to what our customers are doing and review how we look after customers at our stations.

No station is closing, and station operating times remain unaffected by these proposals. Train services would be unaffected by the changes.

Our Passenger Assist programme – which helps disabled and mobility-impaired customers navigate stations and board trains – will not be affected by the changes. The proposals are designed to increase the number of staff trained and available to help customers at stations across the network, including those with additional accessibility needs.

Before we make any decisions, we are consulting with our staff and their trades unions, and with the public about each individual station. The public consultation is being run by industry watchdogs Transport Focus and London TravelWatch. You can find out how to take part in the public consultation at www.gwr.com/haveyoursay or see the details below.
